

Monterey Bay Aquarium Celebrates 35 Years With Its First 21+ Sleepover Event

80's-Themed Sleepover Party With Dancing, Games, Improv and More!

Monterey Bay Aquarium will be turning back time to the 1980's for its first 21-and-over sleepover party, Sweet Dreams Are Made of Seaweed. The fer sure good time lets adults hang at the aquarium for an evening of rad activities including dancing to 80's jams, improv, games, storytelling and a late-night movie. When it's time to crash, guests can fall asleep under the sea stars and next to their favorite exhibits.

Sweet Dreams Are Made of Seaweed celebrates 35 years of ocean inspiration since Monterey Bay Aquarium opened its doors on October 20, 1984. Today, more than 35,000 bodacious creatures representing more than 550 species fill 34 major galleries. Totally tubular!
